“Great Pancake Escape” Ballet

This humorous and fun-filled ballet is a story of a magician who accidentally mixes up his magic spells with a recipe for pancakes one morning! As a result all the pancakes come to life and escape throughout the city. His whole family then set about the hilarious task of chasing down the pancakes and bringing them home. Featuring: Toledo magician, Andrew Martin, Jazz musicians including composer David Jex, Ballet Theatre of Toledo dancers with choreography by Artistic Director Nigel Burgoine and the book’s author, Paul Many, will narrate the story. As a special treat, Toledo’s own Scrambler Marie’s, is providing vouchers for a free order of pancakes to everyone that comes to see the performance!
