Ballet Theatre of Toledo (BTT) is a 501(c)(3) non-profit arts organization formed to provide an opportunity for area students to study ballet and perform their art for audiences in the Northwest Ohio and Southeast Michigan area. Please support the ballet through Sponsorship for this year's 15th Anniversary Season.

How does my sponsorship benefit the community?

Scholarships for male dancers, Tuition assistance

A significantly reduced tuition rate is offered to male dancers who participate in productions. This is BTT's way of joining the global effort to increase the number of male ballet dancers. Tuition assistance is available for advanced dancers who are required to train many hours a week but can only afford to pay a portion of the tuition.

The Nutcracker production includes a cast of 100 dancers, professional guest artists, professional orchestra conducted by Kevin Bylsma and singers from the Toledo Opera Children's Chorus. This timeless classic performed in the beautiful Valentine Theatre on November 30th and December 1st is family friendly and the perfect way to leap into the holiday season. Opportunities to sponsor guest artists, musicians or scenes are available.

Meema the Lemur becomes a Ballerina production is based on a children's story book written by Nigel Burgoine and illustrated by teenage BTT company dancer Jacqueline Weaner. David Jex has written an original music composition that will include eight musicians for one school performance on March 20th and a public performance on March 21st at the Franciscan Center at Lourdes University. This fantasy production includes partnerships with the Toledo Zoo, Buckeye Broadband and Ann Hartmann
